

With their self-esteem restored and sustained, the poor are in a better shape to be empowered and be inspired to go on despite overwhelming trials and difficulties. Aside from praying with one another, knowing each other and showing the wonders of living the Rogate, the aforementioned are the values fostered by the gathering of around 71 leaders and members of SHaCC at St. Anthony's Boys' Village last July 1, 2012. Truly, the way of the heart succeeds in relationships that build families—a perfect way to complement the rather impersonal sharing of material goods.
